Galloway Twp., NJ – Temple Emeth Shalom in Margate will host the "Salute to Stockton" Annual Distinguished Scholars Guest Speakers Program for the 10th consecutive year. This popular program features faculty members from The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

Rabbi Gordon Geller said that the "Salute to Stockton" talks are one of the highlights of the year at his congregation; and that this year holds particular significance.

"It's difficult to believe that this will be the 10th Anniversary of this series," Rabbi Geller said. "What started out as an idea to bring Stockton's wealth of talented speakers into our community has evolved into a much-anticipated annual tradition. Stockton is home to many world-class scholars, a fine Religious Studies program and the region's only Holocaust Resource Center. This lecture series is just one more example of the College's partnership with and outreach to our community. We think the speakers this year live up to the special anniversary we are celebrating."

The series of talks will take place at the Temple in the sanctuary during Sabbath eve services starting at 8 p.m. The Temple is located at 8501 Ventnor Avenue in Margate (near the corner of Ventnor and Jerome Avenues.) These events are free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served after the service.

Following is the schedule of speakers and their topics:

Friday, July 6: Professor Marcia Fiedler: "Why Jewish Studies Are Important to Everyone"
Friday, July 13: Professor David Burdick: "The Secrets of Successful Aging"
Friday, August 17: Professor Beverly Vaughn: "Musically Speaking"
