

GLOBALIZATION LECTURE SERIES

By introducing a variety of global topics across disciplines, the Globalization Lecture Series aims to support students to develop global awareness as well as broad and critical perspectives of the global world, developments, and opportunities. All students, faculty, staff, and community members are welcome.

Thursdays | 4:30PM | Zoom

Meeting ID: 950 3469 8903

DATE	PRESENTER	TITLE
February 16, 2023	Jess Bonnan-White	Displacement in Northern Ireland during the "Troubles": Integrating Experiences of Police Officers into "Post-Conflict" Security Narratives
March 2, 2023	Daniel Moscovici	Wine and Environmental Sustainability - A Global Perspective
March 30, 2023	Lauren Balasco	Attacking Democracy: Brazil, Germany, and the U.S in Comparison
April 6, 2023	Robert Blaskiewicz	Uncertain Loyalties: Enemy Making and Global Conspiracy Theories
April 27, 2023	Tait Chirenje	Global Environmental Issues - Climate Change and Stability

Stockton is an Equal Opportunity Institution.

stockton.edu

For questions about accessibility or to request an accommodation, please contact the Office of Event Services and Campus Center Operations at 609.652.4878 or event.services@stockton.edu at least 5 business days in advance of your participation or visit.

Sponsored by the Global Studies Minor & Office of Global Engagement

Contact Dr. Lauren Balasco or Dr. JY Zhou if you have any questions.