BUILDING TEACHER LEADERSHIP CAPACITY GRANT
Year 3 of 3

WHEREAS, at the request of a high-needs K-8 school district, Somers Point School District, and the district that educates its high school students, Mainland Regional High School District, a proposal was developed to form the Stockton Mentoring Network; and

WHEREAS, Stockton’s School of Education, including staff from its Southern Regional Institute and Educational Technology Training Center (SRI&ETTC) successfully developed and submitted a continuation proposal to address the goals of the New Jersey Department of Education for this funding; and

WHEREAS, the University has been notified that the application to the New Jersey Department of Education has been selected for funding; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Stockton University Board of Trustees hereby accepts Year Three funding in the amount of $113,491 to respond to NGO# 18-ER15-G03 Building Teacher Leadership Capacity Grant.
STOCKTON UNIVERSITY
Application for Funding to the New Jersey Department of Education
BUILDING TEACHER LEADERSHIP CAPACITY
TO SUPPORT BEGINNING TEACHERS
18-ER15-G03
YEAR THREE OF THREE
ABSTRACT

Through a project team that includes faculty/staff from the School of Education, including its Southern Regional Institute and ETTC (SRI & ETTC), Stockton University will lead a cohort of teachers and administrators from Somers Point Public Schools, a high-needs LEA, and Mainland Regional High School, which educates the children of Somers Point in grades 9-12, through a two-year project that will examine district mentoring programs and other policies and practices that support beginning teachers. A series of high-quality professional learning opportunities as well as continuous interaction with instructional coaches from the University will support participants as they build their capacity to serve as effective mentor teachers for pre-service teachers, novice teachers, and for district peers needing assistance in instructional strategies and classroom practices.

The Mentoring Network Team composed of teacher leaders, district administrators, and University faculty and staff will create a developmental continuum of support for the novice teacher that begins during pre-service teaching and continues during a teacher’s first years. The team will examine and refine district practices including the selection and training of mentor teachers, enhancing the student teaching experience, and supporting the novice teacher.

Additionally, a cohort of 30 teachers from the partner districts will participate in a comprehensive program of professional learning to prepare them to lead their districts’ mentoring programs. Through face-to-face workshops, one-on-one coaching, and completion of online modules created for this initiative, participants will develop the capacity to identify and analyze instructional practices that successfully engage students in high-quality cognitive demanding lessons. Participants will introduce this “ambitious instruction cycle” to the novice teacher through an innovative model of teacher leadership, educative mentoring, which focuses on the professional growth of novices by prioritizing self-reflection and continued growth.

Providing opportunities for novice teachers to successfully navigate the complex learning environment of K-12 schools requires high quality induction programs that bridge professional learning from pre-service practice through the first years in a classroom setting. Each step along the developmental continuum must be led by teacher leaders who have the capacity to observe, discuss, and guide the novice through reflective practices that will improve beginning teacher practices.

This bid waiver increase will provide the Office of Enrollment Management with enhanced and ongoing student search services provided by Ruffalo Noel Levitz (RNL). RNL’s enhanced search strategies include data management, predictive modeling and communications targeted to current high school students. Information about Stockton is communicated to these students on many levels with the intent to gain their interest, prompt a visit, and keep them engaged to ensure that Stockton is their first choice. Through RNL’s refined Demand Builder and Applicant Cultivator services, list purchase management is increased to 125,000 in FY18 (up from 75,000 in FY17), and an application marketing campaign to cultivate the targeted applicants is launched. It is multi-faceted and includes layered rounds of outreach through emails, telephone campaigns and mailings including application information packages and follow-up letters. RNL’s services provide a comprehensive toolset designed to increase authentic applications that meet enrollment objectives to help focus on relationships with the best potential students. The increase in the cost of the services from RNL in FY17 represents an increase of 50,000 records plus the associated services to meet that substantial addition.
