JIM WHELAN BOARDWALK HALL
ATLANTIC CITY

*“To laugh often and much;
To win the respect
of intelligent people
and the affection of children;
to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure
the betrayal of false friends;
to appreciate beauty,
to find the best in others;
to leave the world a little better;
whether by a healthy child,
a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;
to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived.
This is the meaning of success.”*

– Ralph Waldo Emerson

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations, Class of 2026!

Today is a joyful and powerful milestone. This moment represents your hard work, your perseverance, your growth, and the many people who helped you along the way. I hope you feel the pride of this achievement deeply.

As you walk across the stage, know that you carry more than a diploma. You carry the spirit of Stockton. You are part of a community of opportunity, grounded in excellence, equity, and care. You have learned in classrooms, labs, studios, clinical settings, internships, research projects, community partnerships, and through the relationships that have shaped your journey.

You graduate at a time when the world is changing quickly. But I want you to remember this: you are ready. You have asked hard questions, listened with openness, adapted through challenge, and shown what it means to lead with dignity, respect, kindness, compassion, and civility.

Wherever your next chapter takes you, carry Stockton's Ethic of Care with you. Lead with courage. Stay curious. Speak with integrity. Lift others as you rise. Use your voice, your knowledge, and your story to strengthen the communities you will touch next.

And remember, your Stockton journey does not end today. Come back. Stay connected. Share your story. Mentor future Ospreys. Help open doors for others, just as so many have helped open doors for you.

I am proud of who you are, grateful for the mark you have made on this university, and excited for the leaders, professionals, neighbors, and citizens you are becoming.

Soar Higher! Go Ospreys!

Sadia Mihi | 9:30 a.m.

Sadia Mihi is a dual degree student in Criminal Justice with a minor in Victimology and Victim Services. She is deeply passionate about human rights, victim advocacy, and uplifting others through compassion and service. Following the completion of her bachelor's degree, Sadia will continue her education at Stockton University, with the goal of becoming a victim advocate.

Throughout her academic career, Sadia has engaged in a variety of internships and research opportunities that reflect her commitment to service and scholarship. In Summer 2024, she interned with the City of Atlantic City's Community Outreach Team, supporting individuals experiencing homelessness. In Spring 2025, she served as an Events Intern with N Street Village in Washington, D.C., where she worked closely with women experiencing homelessness. Sadia has also contributed to research alongside Dr. Syeda Hadi, examining Rohingya refugees' decisions to repatriate or reintegrate, and with Dr. Joshua Duntley, Associate Professor of Criminal Justice, on research exploring homicidal ideation.

An active member of the campus community, Sadia participated in her first Model United Nations conference in New York City, where her delegation represented Mexico and collaborated on a working paper addressing sustainability and global food insecurity. She is also a dedicated volunteer with the Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Center, contributing to campus initiatives and events.

Sadia is a proud recipient of the Engelberg Leadership Scholarship, which has supported her academic journey and provided opportunities for leadership and community engagement. Through this program, she and her cohort partnered with N.J. C.R.O.P.S. and Coastal Cousins Heritage Gardens to establish a public seed library.

As a first-generation college student from an immigrant family, Sadia values education and advocacy as powerful tools for change and strives to make a positive impact in the lives of others. Outside of academics, she enjoys watching anime, creating art, reading, volunteering, and spending time with family and friends, whose support continues to inspire her.

Academic Honors

Academic Honors listed for Spring 2026 undergraduate candidates' cumulative grade point averages, are calculated through Fall 2025, and indicate their potential eligibility for honors. After final averages for the Spring 2026 candidates are calculated, honors will be noted on the student's record. The student who meets the following eligibility requirements upon completion of all degree requirements will be awarded the degree cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude. At least 64 credits must have been completed satisfactorily at Stockton prior to graduation for a student's academic record to qualify for an honors designation. All courses attempted at Stockton will be included in the following calculations, except courses with P/NC or W (or equivalent) grades. Students with a cumulative GPA of 3.950-4.000 will be designated summa cum laude; students with a cumulative GPA of 3.850-3.949 will be designated magna cum laude; students with a cumulative GPA of 3.750-3.849 will be designated cum laude. The calculation of GPA will be taken to three decimal places.

Program Distinction

Undergraduate programs may convey recognition of remarkable performance in program work to students graduating, in general, with a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.5 in program-cognate credits. Additional criteria may be required by the program. For such awards, the phrase Program Distinction will be added to the degree and noted on the transcript. Programs that choose to convey this recognition will include all criteria in the relevant section of the University Bulletin.

Stockton University

Stockton University was founded in 1969 as Richard Stockton State College, a public four-year college within the New Jersey system of higher education. A residential institution with students drawn from across the state, Stockton is located at the edge of the New Jersey Pinelands, 12 miles northwest of Atlantic City and 50 miles southeast of Philadelphia. The largest campus in New Jersey, Stockton's award-winning buildings are set within 1,600+ acres of forest, streams, and lakes.

The University first offered instruction in 1971 and currently offers distinctive baccalaureate programs in liberal arts, professional studies, and general education as well as master's and doctoral degree programs designed to stimulate and challenge students intellectually. Stockton is strongly committed to preparing graduates for careers and advanced education, a commitment that encompasses helping students acquire interest in lifelong learning and in contributing to society.

Stockton's faculty members have gained a national reputation for their teaching, accessibility, and scholarship. In addition, faculty members actively mentor students, involving them in original research, hands-on learning, and community engagement. Through academic and co-curricular programming, faculty members guide undergraduate and graduate students to develop their independent and critical thinking skills both inside and outside the classroom.

Stockton University Foundation

The Stockton University Foundation, a non-profit organization founded to support innovative University programs, provides the means for individuals, organizations, and corporations to make gifts, grants, and bequests to the University. This private support enables the University to finance programs not typically funded through State appropriations.

Gifts donated to the Foundation support student scholarships, faculty and student research fellowships, improvements to equipment and facilities, and enrichment of student services and cultural programs. These offerings enhance the University's excellent record recruiting dedicated faculty, retaining students, and engaging friends.

The Chair of the Foundation's Board of Directors is Lori S. Herndon '92. For further information on the Stockton University Foundation, contact Daniel Nugent, Vice President for University Advancement and Executive Director of the University Foundation, at Daniel.Nugent@stockton.edu.

Academic Honors

As part of a comprehensive educational effort to promote and recognize outstanding academic achievement, Stockton University grants baccalaureate degrees with the designations cum laude, magna cum laude, summa cum laude to qualified graduating students. Those graduates who have achieved academic honors wear a cord around the neck: a gold cord designates summa cum laude, a silver cord designates magna cum laude, and a white cord designates cum laude.

Honors

Students awarded the degree cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude achieve the following eligibility requirements in addition to those needed for a degree. All courses attempted at Stockton are included in the calculations for academic honors, except courses taken as Pass/No Credit. Students must satisfactorily complete at least 64 credits at Stockton prior to graduation in order to qualify for honor's designation.

Students graduate under the policies in effect at the time of their graduation rather than at the time of their initial matriculation. Currently, to receive summa cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative grade point average of 3.950-4.000; to receive magna cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.850-3.949; and to receive cum laude designation, students must achieve a cumulative GPA of 3.750-3.849. The calculation of GPA is taken to three decimal places.

Presidential Medal of Distinction

Stockton University is dedicated to social justice, enriching our communities and fostering responsible global citizens. The Presidential Medal of Distinction recognizes individuals whose exceptional commitment to these values embodies the spirit of our university.

Recipients exemplify the transformative power of partnership, having collaborated with Stockton to create positive change and inspire a spirit of service within our community. The medal recognizes remarkable contributions that have fostered a more vibrant and equitable environment, leaving a lasting impact that aligns perfectly with Stockton's commitment to fostering responsible and engaged global citizens.

Academic Regalia

Academic garb dates back to medieval times, when heavy gowns, hoods, and caps were worn by students to protect them against the cold, dank, and drafty corridors of their universities. In the Middle Ages, Europeans wore clothing of distinctive colors to indicate their status or profession. It was only natural, therefore, that when monks and students began to don distinctive costume for bachelor's (apprentices), master's (teachers), and doctor's (teachers who completed postgraduate study) degrees, the most conspicuous distinctions appeared on the hood.

The academic gowns of the past have been replaced by gowns made of lighter fabric, as students no longer wear them to keep warm and since most commencement ceremonies today take place in the late spring and early summer. Typically, commencement gowns are black, although some institutions have adopted gowns in school colors.

The bachelor's gown, comparatively simple in design, usually has no adornment other than its characteristic long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has oblong sleeves, which are open at the wrist. The doctor's gown differs from the bachelor's and master's gowns because it sports velvet panels down the front and around the neck and three velvet bands across round, open sleeves.

The bachelor's and master's caps are traditional mortarboard while some doctor's degree caps are a soft, large beret. The tassel, which is usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, occasionally comes in a color representing the student's field of study and may be gold for doctors and presidents. Prior to conferral of a degree, the tassel falls to the right; upon conferral, students switch the tassel ceremoniously to the left.

The hood, as the most distinctive and symbolic piece of the academic costume, indicates the level of the degree, the field of study, and the institution conferring the degree. The length of the hood denotes the degree; bachelor's hoods are three feet, master's three and a half feet, and doctor's four feet long. There are also similar variations in the length of the velvet trimming. This trimming denotes the field of study for which the degree was awarded. The lining of the hood represents the color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. Some of the colors of the trimming are as follows:

Arts, Letters, Humanities, White	Nursing, Apricot
Accountancy, Business, Commerce, Drab	Occupational Therapy, Slate Blue

Mace

The origins of the ceremonial mace can be traced to the Middle Ages when knights wielded maces as weapons. As knighthood became obsolete, the mace became symbolic of power. It is now a traditional symbol of authority in churches, government, and universities.

Ned Gerber, Port Republic woodcarver who served on Stockton's founding committee, carved the mace carried by the Faculty Grand Marshal at Stockton graduation ceremonies. The three-foot shaft of the Stockton mace is crafted from walnut and holly, woods indigenous to southern New Jersey. The walnut is from a century-old tree hewn by Tom Lang, a retired member of the Stockton staff. Pewter, the metal employed in Stockton's mace, was a popular and practical metal in New Jersey during colonial times.

Stockton's mace is crowned with the flame of knowledge and carved in holly to denote mission. At the foot is a carved acorn, which indicates growth. Below the flame of knowledge is a triad of Stockton's former logo, a symbol of two trees, denoting environmental concern. Linked edge-to-edge and inlaid with holly, this symbol represents the three populations comprising the University community: students, faculty, and staff. The Great Seal of New Jersey, cast in pewter, signifies Stockton's aegis and sponsorship. A fluted section of walnut below the seal suggests the academic curriculum and the self-discipline necessary for each student to achieve a degree. Below that is a pewter cylinder engraved with the names of the first three Presidents of Stockton University. Finally, an engraved pewter nameplate identifies "Richard Stockton State College founded 1969."
