

MINOR IN COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP AND SOCIAL CHANGE

The Community Leadership and Social Change (CLSC) minor is one that is grounded in understanding how social change works through building community power (including outside of official institutional channels of decision-making). Community engagement and service-learning promotes this work of self-actualization as students communicate and build relationships with communities different than theirs. This minor will allow students to refine skills to solidify and amplify community engagement work in the city, region, country, and world.

You can choose from a wide variety of courses, including:

Tools for Social Change; Leaders Influencing People and Change;
The Urban Teacher; Why Poetry Matters; African American Leadership and Community Development; Leadership, Strategy, and Change;
Women in Protest; Sexuality, Crime and Criminal Justice; Environmental Planning and Policy
