

Unveiling the HIDDEN Complexities of HEALTHCARE

Business, Trust, Innovation, and Equity

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30 • 4:30-6^{PM}

Stockton University | Campus Center Theater

101 Vera King Farris Dr, Galloway, NJ 08205

PANELISTS

Shanita Alvarez-Crawley LSW, PMHC, Certified Perinatal Mental Health Provider, Building Administrator, Social Work Manager, (AtlantiCare)

Philip S. Burnham, II, Esquire Principal Attorney (Burnham Douglass)

Dr. Shedia R. Laguer Manager of the Office of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (Children's Hospital of Philadelphia)

Christian D. Ragland MPA, Assistant Vice President of Diversity, Equity & Inclusion (AtlantiCare)

The Stockton University School of Business' Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Belonging (DEIB) Committee has teamed up with the DEIB committees from the School of Health Sciences and the School of Natural Sciences and Mathematics to present an insightful panel discussion exploring the complex and often hidden facets of the healthcare industry. Our distinguished panelists will delve into the business dynamics of healthcare, address the challenges of liabilities and specimen handling, and examine the erosion of trust in the system. We will also confront historical inequities in medical research, the importance of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging (DEIB) in hiring, inclusive management strategies, employee retention and the transformative role of AI in healthcare. Additionally, we will discuss the crucial need for cultural competence in today's diverse medical landscape.
