

POLITICS & GOVERNMENT

A political insider's take on the controversy over Camden's tax incentives

BY Michael Aron, Chief Political Correspondent | May 6, 2019, 5PM EST

SHARE:

Chief Political Correspondent Michael Aron speaks with Carl Golden of the William J. Hughes Center for Public Policy at Stockton University about the political ramifications of the EDA's tax incentives in Camden. Golden also served as press secretary to Govs. Tom Kean and Christine Todd Whitman.

Michael Aron

Chief Political Correspondent

Michael Aron has been an integral part of New Jersey public television and synonymous with Trenton political coverage for decades. Referred to by colleagues as the "Dean of the Statehouse Press Corps", he currently serves as NJTV News Chief Political Correspondent and host of two popular public affairs programs, On the Record with Michael Aron and Reporters Roundtable with Michael Aron. Read Full Bio →

 Follow @MichaelAronNJTV 5,564 followers