Galloway Township, NJ- Students in Dr. Norma Boakes' "Art and Math of Origami" class have handcrafted nearly 100 folded paper figures that will be on display at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

This year's Origami Showcase, themed origami at the movies, features work by 23 students. Boakes, an associate professor of Education, and her students will present their models, inspired by Jurassic Park, Finding Nemo and other movie blockbusters, on Tuesday, April 23. The showcase will take place in the F-Wing Atrium, located outside the Bjork Library, on the college's main campus, 10:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m.
