I. PURPOSE

The purpose of this Procedure is to promote the health and safety of the University community. This Procedure may be modified by the University at any time based on public health guidance and to adapt to changing circumstances and operational needs, consistent with its commitment to maintaining a safe and healthy workplace.

II. PROCEDURE STATEMENT

All Employees must receive and provide proof of being Fully Vaccinated with a COVID19 vaccine acceptable to Stockton University, as well as subsequent boosters as set forth in this Procedure. Employees must provide such proof by uploading a copy or photo of their vaccine card to the goStockton Portal.

Employees may request an exemption to this requirement based on a medical condition or sincerely held religious belief as detailed below. This Procedure does not apply to students, vendors, or visitors.

III. DEFINITIONS

COVID-19 vaccine acceptable to Stockton University means any COVID-19 vaccine approved or having emergency use authorization from the United States Food and Drug Administration (“FDA”) and COVID-19 vaccines that have been listed for emergency use by the World Health Organization (“WHO”). The complete current list is available on the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (“CDC”) website.

Employees means all full-time and part-time employees and Temporary Employee Specialists (TES) of the University.

Fully Vaccinated means that at least two weeks have passed after receiving the second dose of a two-dose vaccine or the single dose of a one-dose vaccine. The definition of Fully Vaccinated is consistent with current guidance issued by the CDC.

Medical Exemption means being exempt for a medical reason. If an Employee claims an inability to receive the vaccine due to a medical condition (and is therefore seeking exemption from the vaccination requirement), the Employee must complete and submit to the Office of Human Resources the Employee COVID-19 Immunization Exemption/Extension Request Form along with supporting medical documentation. The Office of Human Resources will review and may engage in a discussion with the Employee or seek additional medical information and conduct an individualized assessment. The Office of Human Resources will then determine if the information provided supports approval of a medical exemption allowing the Employee to be present in the workplace with appropriate health and safety protocols.

Record of Vaccination (or vaccine card) refers to the COVID-19 Vaccination Record Card produced by the CDC, an immunization record produced by the state or foreign country where the vaccine was administered, or an immunization record from the medical office where the vaccine was administered. The vaccine card must include the name and date of birth of the individual vaccinated, the manufacturer and lot number(s) of the vaccine, the date(s) that the vaccine(s) were administered, and the location(s) where the vaccine(s) were administered.

Religious Exemption means being exempt for a sincerely held religious belief. If an Employee claims to be unable to receive a vaccine due to a sincerely held religious belief (and is thereby seeking an exemption to the vaccination requirement), the Employee must complete and submit the Employee COVID-19 Immunization Exemption/Extension Request Form. The Office of Human Resources will review the information provided and may engage in a discussion with the Employee, request additional supporting documentation, and conduct an individualized assessment. The Office of Human Resources will then determine if the information provided supports approval of a religious exemption allowing the Employee to be present in the workplace with appropriate health and safety protocols.

Up to Date means a person is Fully Vaccinated and has received any booster dose(s) when eligible in accordance with CDC guidance and recommendations.

IV. PROCEDURE

All Employees must do one of the following: (1) provide proof that they are Fully Vaccinated by uploading a copy or photo of their vaccine card and entering their vaccine information via the University goStockton Portal; (2) request an exemption to the requirement to be Fully Vaccinated based on their own medical condition or sincerely held religious belief by completing and submitting the Employee COVID-19 Immunization Exemption/Extension Request Form; or (3) request an extension to be Fully Vaccinated by submitting the Employee COVID-19 Immunization Exemption/Extension Request Form.

By February 28, 2022 or within two weeks of the date of eligibility in accordance with CDC recommendations, all Employees who were not prior to that date granted a Medical Exemption or Religious Exemption must provide proof that they are up to date with their COVID-19 vaccine by uploading a copy or photo of their vaccine card and entering their vaccine information via the University goStockton Portal.

When entering vaccine information in the University goStockton Portal, Employees may enter each dose at separate times or may enter different doses at one time. Employees should take an electronic photo or scan their vaccine card to upload into the University goStockton Portal. The Office of Human Resources will review each vaccination card to verify accuracy. Falsification of vaccine information will subject an Employee to discipline up to and including termination of employment. In addition, the submission of falsified vaccination records is a crime subject to reporting and prosecution under federal and State laws.

Individuals receiving offers of employment must provide proof that they are up to date with a COVID-19 vaccine acceptable to Stockton University or request an extension or exemption prior to their employment start date. If not yet up to date with a COVID-19 vaccine, these individuals must inform the Office of Human Resources of the date by which they will be up to date or provide receipt of vaccine exemption approval granted by the Office of Human Resources.

Individuals receiving offers of employment from the University who do not timely comply with this Procedure will have their offer of employment rescinded.

Exemption, Reasonable Accommodation and Extension

This Procedure allows Employees to request exemption or extension from the mandatory COVID-19 vaccination requirements based upon qualifying and documented medical or religious reasons. Employees are encouraged to submit their requests as soon as possible.

Employees requesting an exemption to the COVID-19 vaccination requirement must complete and submit the Employee COVID-19 Immunization Exemption/Extension Request Form available on the Office of Human Resources webpage. When completing this form, the Employee must identify the reason for such request – specifically, their medical condition or sincerely held religious belief, along with any required or necessary supporting documentation.

The Office of Human Resources will review the request and consult with the ADA/504 Coordinator where necessary or appropriate. If the exemption is granted to enable an Employee who is unvaccinated to be present at their University workplace, the Employee must comply with the requirements for unvaccinated individuals in the section below related to “Public Health Requirements for Employees”. Reasonable accommodations will be granted where they do not create an undue hardship for the University and/or do not pose a direct threat to the health or safety of others in the workplace. Working remotely may not be an alternative for Employees who are unvaccinated and may not be available to those granted a Medical or Religious Exemption.

The Office of Human Resources may deny the request for exemption and/or accommodation with an explanation of the reason for the denial. If requested by the Office of Human Resources, an Employee may submit additional information within (5) five business days of receipt of the decision from the Office of Human Resources denying the request for an exemption and/or accommodation.

Disputes by Employees who are members of CWA, IFPTE or NJPBA over whether the Employee qualifies for a religious or medical exemption will be subject to law and, if applicable, the terms of the applicable Memorandum of Agreement Regarding Vaccinations at State Colleges and Universities between the State and CWA, IFPTE and NJPBA, respectively.

Employees may submit a request for an extension of the required date to be Fully Vaccinated by completing and submitting the Employee COVID-19 Immunization Exemption/Extension Request Form. The Office of Human Resources will review the request for an extension and may request additional information.

Requests for and Use of Leave Under This Procedure

In cases where an Employee is not vaccinated in accordance with this Procedure and has been denied a medical or religious exemption or extension, the Employee may submit a request to the Office of Human Resources to take unpaid leave under this Procedure for no more than 30 calendar days. The Employee must provide the University with documentation of being Fully Vaccinated during the leave period.
