A Final Word
Introduction

Welcome to Stockton University Social Work Program! If you are thinking about majoring in Social Work, this Social Work Program Student Handbook will serve as a guide. In addition to developing a familiarity with the contents of this handbook, you need to consult regularly with your Preceptor or Program Coordinator. Feel free to also visit our website at www.stockton.edu/sowk.

The Stockton Social Work Program was established in 1972. Graduates from our program receive a Bachelor of Science degree in Social Work and are prepared to assume entry-level positions as generalist social work practitioners or to continue their studies at the graduate level.

We wish you success as you work towards your educational and career goals, and we look forward to getting to know you.

Stockton University

Stockton University is a four-year, coeducational, undergraduate and graduate university of arts, sciences, and professional studies. Stockton is the southernmost and the youngest member in New Jersey's state-wide, state-supported system of higher education. Administratively, there are seven major academic units (Schools): Arts and Humanities (ARHU), Natural Sciences and Mathematics (NAMS), Business (BUSN), Health Sciences (HLTH), Education (EDUC), Social and Behavioral Sciences (SOBL), and General Studies (GENS). The Social Work Program is part of the Social and Behavioral Sciences (SOBL). The Dean, Assistant Dean, secretaries, and faculty mail boxes are located in the SOBL Office (H-210).

Stockton University's accreditation was reaffirmed by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools in 2012. The Social Work Program was initially accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) in 1976, retroactive to 1975. That accreditation was reaffirmed in 1981, 1988, 1995, 2003, and in 2011.

Equal Opportunity University

Stockton University is an equal opportunity institution. It does not discriminate in admissions or access to its programs and activities or in treatment or employment of individuals on the basis of race, creed, religion, color, national origin/nationality, ancestry, age, sex/gender (including pregnancy), marital status, familial status, affectional or sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, domestic partnership status, atypical hereditary cellular or blood trait, genetic information, disability (including perceived disability, physical, mental, and/or intellectual disabilities), or liability for service in the Armed Forces of the United States.

Affirmative Action

Stockton University stands firmly committed to the principle of equal employment opportunity. The University employs a diverse population of men and women who represent various racial, ethnic, and economic backgrounds. The University strives to maintain and extend that diversity, not only to comply with state and federal statutes, but also to provide an educationally desirable environment. To that end, the University has developed an Affirmative Action Program to reaffirm and operationalize fully Stockton's commitment to equal opportunity for all job classifications. The sexual harassment of students or employees by faculty, administrators, other employees or students is a form of sex discrimination prohibited by state and federal law. The University regards such behavior as a violation of the code of conduct.
required of all persons associated with the institution. In addition, the University complies with federal regulations which require it to employ and to advance the disabled, Vietnam-era veterans, and disabled veterans.

The Social Work Program is fully and enthusiastically committed to all of the above.

The Social Work Program

Philosophy

The Social Work Program at Stockton offers undergraduate students the opportunity to pursue a professional, accredited degree program in Social Work. The Program also makes available for all students a limited number of general education and professional courses for those interested in the problems of modern society from the perspective and theoretical orientation of the social work/social welfare specialist.

Social work is a profession concerned with conditions that limit the social functioning of individuals, groups, and communities. Its purpose is to enhance client systems’ social functioning and to help create a more just and supportive society for all people. Social Work, an academic and professional discipline with an organized body of values, knowledge, and skills, represents a point of view on the human condition. It is also an applied practice that is both creative and a source of insight into that condition. The problems of people are identified as resulting primarily from environmental and societal failure and not from personal pathology. Thus, social work is committed to promoting social and institutional change in addition to helping people directly in their individual difficulties. In all instances, social work begins, not with people’s problems, but with their respective strengths.

Mission, Goals, and Competencies

(Revised August 2015)

Mission

The Stockton University Social Work Program’s mission is to prepare undergraduate social work majors for generalist social work practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities by providing a broad-based, professional education that rests on a solid liberal arts foundation. The Program also seeks to serve the larger university community through Social Work and General Studies course offerings that have universal appeal to those seeking a better understanding of the human condition. The Program’s central focus is on producing graduates who have a lifetime commitment to upholding human rights, respecting human diversity, and working towards social and economic justice in their professional and personal lives.
Goals and Core Competencies

Goal I: To prepare graduates to practice with diverse populations, particularly those who have been placed at risk by patterns and histories of social injustice.

Graduates of the Stockton Social Work Program will have mastered the following core competencies:
- Engage diversity and difference in practice
- Advance human rights and social and economic justice
- Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities

Goal II: To provide comprehensive content about generalist social work practice.

Graduates of the Stockton Social Work Program will have mastered the following core competencies:
- Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly
- Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice
- Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments
- Engage diversity and difference in practice
- Advance human rights and social and economic justice
- Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research
- Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment
- Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services
- Respond to contexts that shape practice
- Engage, assess, intervene, and evaluate with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities
- Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment

Goal III: Provide content about the social contexts of social work practice.

Graduates of the Stockton Social Work Program will have mastered the following core competencies:
- Apply knowledge of human behavior and the social environment
- Engage in policy practice to advance social and economic well-being and to deliver effective social work services
- Respond to contexts that shape practice

Goal IV: Infuse throughout the curriculum the values and ethics that guide professional social workers in their practice.

Graduates of the Stockton Social Work Program will have mastered the following core competency:
- Apply social work ethical principles to guide professional practice

Goal V: Prepare graduates to be conscientious lifelong learners.

Graduates of the Stockton Social Work Program will have mastered the following core competency:
- Identify as a professional social worker and conduct oneself accordingly
Goal VI: Prepare graduates who demonstrate the ability to think critically, write effectively, communicate effectively orally, use practice experience to inform scientific inquiry, and be comfortable with the use of computers.

Graduates of the Stockton Social Work Program will have mastered the following core competencies:
- Apply critical thinking to inform and communicate professional judgments
- Engage in research-informed practice and practice-informed research

Goal VII: Faculty of the Stockton Social Work Program will provide service to the broader university community, to the surrounding southern New Jersey region, and in wider statewide, national, and international arenas. In this way, we deepen the Social Work Program’s capacity to bring professional values and ethics to the broadest possible population, representing to students what it means to be engaged professional social workers; and we demonstrate our commitment to ensure that Stockton University graduates are prepared to be citizens in a democratic, multi-cultural society.

Educational Approaches

The Social Work Program at Stockton University offers a curriculum and a set of field experiences that prepare entry-level generalist social work practitioners. A generalist social work practitioner, competent in the knowledge, value, and skill base of social work practice, uses evaluative, problem-solving, and interventive skills to assume supportive, advocacy and leadership roles in a variety of professional practice settings.

To become a generalist social work practitioner, you will need to obtain a solid foundation in the liberal arts, continuing with upper level courses as you progress through the Junior and Senior sequences. To develop a broad understanding of the human condition, which is required in the more advanced social work courses, you will need to complete “cognate” courses, that is, courses in the social, behavioral, and natural sciences, such as sociology/anthropology/criminal justice, psychology, economics, political science, and human biology. With lower-level and upper-level courses in these areas, you will develop an understanding of people’s bio-psycho-socio-economic needs. In Social Work Program courses, you will learn about the value base of the social work profession and about ethical decision-making. You will learn to understand the history of social welfare. You will develop an understanding of the social work profession, including its commitment to diversity and to working with oppressed groups. You will develop an understanding of research methodology and of how to apply research findings to your practice. You will develop an understanding of social work perspectives and theories, including ecological and systems theories, the person-in-environment perspective, the strengths perspective, and the empowerment approach. You will learn to integrate classroom learning with field experience, applying social work knowledge, values, and skills in an agency setting with client systems.

1 The best courses to meet the human biology requirement include Physiological Psychology, Health Psychology, or Human Anatomy and Physiology. Other courses may be acceptable, please refer to the Social Work Curriculum Worksheet, CAPP Audit, and consult with your preceptor before registering for an alternate course to meet this requirement.

2 “Upper level” courses are preferably at the 3000 level, although 2000 level courses also meet the requirement for upper level courses. It is best to check with your preceptor.

Social work education, especially practice and field courses, relies heavily on experiential learning. You will learn through reading, lectures, class discussion, guest speakers, and writing assignments—but also through experiential methods, such as role playing and other in-class exercises, and supervised work with client systems in a field setting. While taking SOWK 4601 and SOWK 4602, you will spend two days a week in the field and attend field seminars (400 hours total for the year).

For an overall view of a typical way to fulfill Social Work Program requirements, see the Curriculum Plan and the Typical Social Work Curriculum, which follow.

Curriculum Plan

The Social Work (SOWK) Program offers you a unique interaction between classroom lectures and discussions and field observation and work. Course content in social welfare concepts and practice builds upon concepts from the humanities and from the natural, social, behavioral, and health sciences. The program consists of three core sequences of social work courses:

The Introductory Sequence

SOWK 1101 Introduction to Social Work (4 credits)
SOWK 1103 Human Behavior in the Social Environment (4 credits)
SOWK 2504 Race, Ethnicity, Diversity (4 credits)

You are introduced to the building blocks—knowledge, values, and skills—of generalist social work practice. These courses are taken in the first and second years, usually beginning the second term of the first year. During these two years, you are preparing to become a social work major. In addition to the courses listed above, you are expected to have made significant progress in completing the social work program’s liberal arts foundation requirement prior to entering the Junior sequence. This includes courses in the following areas of instruction: psychology, sociology/anthropology/criminal justice, political science, economics and human biology; as well as a writing course, a freshman seminar, and 16 credit hours distributed among General Arts and Humanities (GAH), General Social and Behavioral Sciences (GSS), General Natural Sciences and Mathematics (GNM), and General Interdisciplinary Skills and Topics (GEN).

The Junior Sequence

You must successfully complete SOWK 1101 and SOWK 1103 or their equivalent before entering the Junior sequence.

SOWK 3101 History of Social Welfare Policy (4 credits)
SOWK 3102 Research Methods in Social Work (4 credits)
SOWK 3604 Generalist Social Work Practice: Theory and Methods I (4 credits)
SOWK 3605 Generalist Social Work Practice: Theory and Methods II (4 credits)
SOWK 3905 Field Practicum (2 credits)
In the Junior year, having completed the introductory sequence and liberal arts base, you take courses to begin to integrate the knowledge, value, and skills of generalist social work practice. In the Fall semester of the Junior year while enrolled in the Generalist Social Work Practice: Theory and Methods I, you apply to enter Generalist Social Work Practice: Theory and Methods II and Field Practicum. The faculty determines your eligibility based on your academic and performance. Successful completion of this process ensures that you have become a full-fledged major. In addition to the five courses listed above, you are expected to continue fulfilling General Studies requirements and should begin to complete more advanced social and behavioral science requirements (18 credits).

Students must purchase TK20 program in Fall semester in Theory and Methods I by 11/22/17. Applications for senior year field placement internship MUST be submitted on TK20 before 12/1/17; failure to do so will result in a delay of one year of your placement in a senior internship.

The Senior Sequence

- SOWK 4601 Senior Seminar: Social Work Practice I (4 credits)
- SOWK 4901 Senior Fieldwork I (4 credits)
- SOWK 4602 Senior Seminar: Social Work Practice II (4 credits)
- SOWK 4902 Senior Fieldwork II (4 credits)

In the Senior year, having completed the introductory and Junior sequences, you prepare to become a generalist social work practitioner through completing the integration of knowledge, values, and skills. You apply to enter the Senior Seminar with Fieldwork as listed above, during the Spring of your Junior year. The application consists of an essay, the purpose of which is to deepen the ongoing process of self-evaluation and career discernment. In the essay, you will discuss your interests in social work, including specialization interests. (Many students find that this essay serves as the basis of the personal statement that they prepare when applying for admission to a graduate program in social work.) The faculty determines your eligibility, based on your application essay and on your academic and field work record. Before the summer of your Senior year, you are assigned to your Senior field placement and are expected to contact your field supervisor for an interview. Opportunities for field experience and learning under professional supervision are available in the following settings, among others: child welfare, family services, schools, hospital and health care, behavioral health, developmental disabilities, services to the older adults, and criminal justice.

Electives and Opportunities for Concentrations, Minors, and Certificates

You are expected to elect additional courses from among any of the disciplines. With the inclusion of these electives and with advised selection of the courses that meet the program’s general education and professionally related requirements, the curriculum is flexible enough to permit you to develop a concentration, minor, or certificate in another academic discipline or in one of Stockton's interdisciplinary programs such as Gerontology, Women's Studies, Africana Studies, Latin and Caribbean Studies, Holocaust and Genocide Studies, Childhood Studies, or Jewish Studies. Within the Social Work Program, you may develop a Concentration in Child Welfare, which requires two courses (Topics in Child Welfare and Child Welfare Services and Practice), plus an internship in a child welfare agency.

You may also take a number of other courses offered by social work faculty, e.g., Aging and the Family, Effects of Media on Children, African American Dance, Africana Studies: An Introductory Perspective, African American Movies, Spirituality and Aging, Death and Dying, or HIV/AIDS: The Epidemic. You also may consider Independent Studies with appropriate faculty for interests not met by listed coursework. If you are interested in pursuing the M.S.W., we strongly recommend that you enroll in a Statistics course. In addition, we strongly encourage you—whether or not you want to pursue a master’s degree—to consider developing foreign language skills, most particularly in Spanish. The Social Work Program has developed an interesting way to gain Spanish language and Latino cultural competency. It offers two courses: Spanish for the Human Service Field and Spanish Immersion Seminar (a GIS course, which involves a Spanish language immersion study tour to Costa Rica).

Transferring from Community Colleges and Other Four-Year Institutions

If you have completed social work courses in other schools, you are granted those credits upon transferring to Stockton. If the material has been covered in a comparable course taken in another institution, you may be released from core social work courses offered by Stockton’s Social Work Program. Credits in general education and professionally-related areas are accepted. Other courses in the human services arena are generally accepted as social work electives. If you have had the necessary prerequisite courses, you may be able to complete your degree requirements in this program in two additional years. The Junior policy sequence, Senior Seminar and field experiences are always required.

The Curriculum Worksheet, which is used by preceptors and students in determining progress in meeting University and Program requirements, is included in Appendix A.
Credit for Life Experience

The Social Work Program does not grant credit for life experience or previous work experience.

Advising

As soon as you decide to major in social work, you should ask to be assigned to a social work preceptor. Your preceptor will be your guide to help you to move towards becoming a social work professional and to help you choose the courses that you will need to fulfill graduation requirements. Feel free to engage in frank and candid discussions about your experiences as a student, your career plans, or any problems you encounter in the program. Your preceptor can also help you to find, if needed, other university or community supportive services. You are encouraged to get to know your preceptor and to meet with him or her regularly---at the very least once each semester.

Graduation Requirements

You are required by the university to complete a minimum of 128 credits, including 32 credits from designated General Studies courses. Courses in General Arts and Humanities (GAH), General Natural Sciences and Mathematics (GNM), General Social and Behavioral Sciences (GSS), General Interdisciplinary Skills and Topics (GEN), and General Integration and Synthesis (GIS) will allow you additional opportunities to build upon the liberal arts and knowledge base of the profession. You must also complete 16 credits in courses that are At Some Distance from your major. This helps to insure that your education is firmly grounded in the liberal arts and sciences. Transfer students are given credits for appropriate work done at other accredited institutions. You are also required to fulfill requirements in Writing (W1, W2), Quantitative Reasoning (Q1, Q2), Historical Consciousness (H), the Arts (A), Values (V), and International/Multicultural (I) courses. (It is essential for you to consult with your preceptor regularly to create and monitor a plan for meeting all university requirements.) In order to graduate, students must have maintained a 2.5 GPA in Social Work Program courses.

Graduation with Distinction

A Bachelor of Science degree with distinction in social work will be awarded to those students who achieve a 3.5 GPA in all Stockton program and cognate courses, successfully complete the Senior fieldwork placement and complete an honors project.

Social Work Club

The student social work club was established in 1976 as a social and service organization. In the early years their activities resulted in many concrete contributions to the University in general and to social work students and faculty in particular. For example, the Club sponsored a nationally renowned advocate and leader of human rights to speak to the University community; the Club organized several social gatherings throughout the years, creating the opportunity for informal interaction among faculty, social work majors and other interested students; and, finally, the organization established a Student Referral Service to enable fellow students to make contact with health, counseling and other Social Service organizations within the community. The club has organized special forums with members of the professional community (e.g. NASW-NJ licensing and certification forum and graduate school forums), and has sponsored fundraisers to help families in need. Most recently, the club has organized volunteer efforts with Habitat for Humanity, collected prom dresses and professional clothing for girls and young women in need, sponsored a cell phone drive for military overseas, sent holiday greetings to children detained in a juvenile justice facility and to elderly residents of nursing homes, and assisted an Atlantic City soup kitchen that feeds the needy. In addition, the Club has created its own website and email list to keep students informed of its activities. The faculty recognizes the importance of this club’s activities and encourages students to participate. The Social Work Club has also established a chapter of Social Work’s Phi Alpha Honor Society. Student Rights

Social Work students have all the rights enumerated in the 2016-17 University Bulletin. Representatives from the Social Work Club are invited to participate in all Social Work Program meetings. By practice, officers or their designees are invited to attend such meetings. Faculty members and student representatives discuss issues related to policy and curriculum changes, course availability, field experiences and alumni concerns. Students also participate in the selection of new faculty members. Ongoing opportunities to evaluate faculty performance are provided each semester through Stockton’s Student Evaluation of Teaching process.

A Social Work Program faculty member serves as adviser to the Social Work Club. Other members of the Social Work Program faculty also visit Social Work Club meetings on occasion. This encourages informal interaction among all those involved in the Social Work Program. Student feedback is a crucial component in the assessment of program effectiveness.

Graduate Study

Many students who receive their Bachelor of Science degree in Social Work eventually decide to attend graduate school, often to pursue the MSW degree. Almost all of our graduates receive Advanced Standing when accepted into an MSW Program. While Rutgers, Fordham, and Temple Universities have been the primary beneficiaries of Stockton Alumni seeking admission to graduate schools of Social Work, another 8 to 10 graduate schools, including New York University, Columbia, Widener, the University of Pennsylvania, and Monmouth, have conferred the MSW degree upon our graduates. However, now that Stockton has its own MSW program, we anticipate that this will offer another opportunity for graduates to pursue their MSW degree. Several of our graduates have successfully pursued advanced degrees in other academic and professional disciplines, such as Divinity, Law, and Public Administration.

Career Opportunities/Employment Demand

The Bachelor of Science in social work has been recognized by the Council on Social Work Education and the National Association of Social Workers as the entry-level professional degree in social work. Job opportunities exist in a wide range of public and private social welfare agencies and institutions. Many state Civil Service commissions, including New Jersey's, recognize the Bachelor of Science degree in social work as qualification for a professional social work position. Graduate programs leading to the master of social work (MSW) degree are available at most major universities.

Both the Baccalaureate and Master level students are employed in a variety of human service settings throughout the Southern region and the State of New Jersey. Employers include: Rutgers School of Social Work; Atlantic County Women's Shelter; Bergen County Prosecutor's Office; New Jersey Division of Youth and Family Services; Administrative Offices of the Court;
Federation of Jewish Agencies; Family Service Association of Atlantic County; AtlantiCare Behavioral Health; Ancora Psychiatric Hospital; County Office on Aging; County Welfare Boards; Atlantic City Medical Center; Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Atlantic County; and the Arc of Atlantic County.

Certification and Licensure

All states now have some form of state licensure or certification for social workers. In New Jersey there are three possibilities: CSW (Certified Social Worker), LSW (Licensed Social Worker), and LCSW (Licensed Clinical Social Worker). Once you have obtained your BS in Social Work, you are eligible to obtain the CSW. Currently, there is no examination for this certification. To obtain your CSW, you need to contact the State Board of Social Work Examiners at 973-504-6495 or visit www.state.nj.us/oag/ca/social/index.htm. Once you have obtained your CSW, you will need to earn Continuing Education credits to maintain your certification. Licensure in New Jersey is limited to individuals who have obtained an MSW and who have passed the relevant examinations and met the experience requirements as stipulated by the New Jersey State Board of Social Work Examiners.

Policy and Procedures concerning Program Standards and Termination of Students for Reasons of Academic and Professional Performance from The Stockton University Social Work Program

[Note: The following policy was adopted in 1997 as the formal statement of Program standards and revised September 2011. Students are informally accepted into the Social Work Program upon declaring their intent to major in social work by filling out a declaration of major form, which is obtained from Stockton’s Office of Academic Advising. Students can declare their major at the freshman, sophomore, or Junior level. Once declared, students choose a social work preceptor and begin to discern whether social work is compatible with their interests and values. At the same time, faculty begin to assess students’ “fit” with professional expectations and standards. This policy clarifies how students formally become candidates for a degree in social work and states the conditions under which they may be counseled to consider other career options.]

Acceptance into the Social Work Program

Social Work majors apply during the Fall Semester of their Junior Year for admission to the Generalist Social Work Practice: Theory and Methods II and Field Practicum. The application consists of a personal statement and a profile of interests and is reviewed by program faculty in a series of meetings held for that purpose. Upon approval of the faculty, the student is admitted to Generalist Social Work Practice: Theory and Methods II and Field Practicum. This admission is considered by the faculty as signifying that the student is in good standing in the Social Work Program and is in compliance with its academic standards.
Procedures for Appeal are as follows:

Students who are refused admission to the Theory & Methods II and Field Practicum and wish to appeal the decision by the faculty should follow the following procedure:

1. Contact preceptor to review student's progress in program.
2. Contact Program Coordinator to discuss and clarify decision of the program.
3. Contact Dean of Social and Behavioral Sciences to discuss, review and appeal program decision.
4. Contact Provost to appeal division and program decision.
5. Contact University President for final appeal.

At each step in the process the student's records will be reviewed and a written statement issued to clarify the position of the program.

Good Academic Standing, Probation, and Dismissal Procedure

A student with a cumulative grade point average below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Probation and notified accordingly by the University. A student on Academic Probation is expected to meet with his/her advisor/preceptor to discuss a Student Performance Improvement Plan (SPIP) upon receiving notification of probation status.

Students are also expected to maintain a GPA of no less than 2.50 in all Social Work Program courses. A minimum 2.50 GPA in Social Work Program courses is required for graduation.

In addition, students must have a cumulative GPA of 2.0 and have maintained a 2.50 GPA in Social Work Program courses before they are allowed to take the following courses: Senior Seminar: Social Work Practice I (SOWK 4601) and Senior Fieldwork I (SOWK 4901).

If a student’s GPA for Social Work Program courses is below the required 2.50 minimum and he/she is not able to enroll in SOWK 4601 or SOWK 4901, he/she is subject to termination and dismissal from the Social Work Program for academic reasons. The Program Coordinator will provide written notice of such dismissal to the student. If there is a procedural error in terminating a student from the Social Work Program for academic reasons, the student may appeal in writing to the Dean of the Social and Behavioral Sciences Division. The appeal must be accompanied by evidence in support of the appeal. Documentation of appeal must be submitted to the Dean no later than two weeks following notice of academic termination from the Program.

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty is a very serious issue. All students enrolled at Stockton University are required to follow all University policies including the Academic Honesty Policy specified in the Stockton University Bulletin. Unless specifically designated otherwise, all work is expected to be the student’s own, independent effort. When in doubt about how to complete an assignment properly, students need to consult with the appropriate faculty member.

In cases involving charges of academic dishonesty, University policy calls for procedures with up to six steps, beginning with the faculty member determining alleged academic dishonesty and filing a charge. The following amendment to University procedure applies to students in undergraduate courses:
In Step 1 of the University Policy and Procedures for academic dishonesty, the faculty member must notify the Office of the Provost of a charge of academic dishonesty and include documentation. In addition, each faculty member has the ability request a Professional Performance Review to the Academic and Professional Standing Committee. Upon consultation with the faculty member and the undergraduate program, the Academic and Professional Standing Committee may vote to dismiss the student from the program. Steps 2 and 3 of the procedure outlined in the Stockton University Bulletin outline the Office of the Provost’s responsibilities as well as the procedure for a student’s response to the charge. The individual faculty member who is teaching the class has the discretion to give the student a failing grade for that course.

Academic Honesty Appeals Board

Academic dishonesty is a serious violation of academic policy and the Campus Conduct Code and is punishable by severe sanctions including suspension and expulsion. The range of sanctions imposed is contingent on several factors, including the decision of the faculty member making the charge, whether it is the student’s first or a repeat offense, and the extent and nature of the offense.

If a student appeals the charge of academic dishonesty, the Academic Honesty Appeals Board, a standing committee consisting of faculty and select students, will hear the case. The Academic Honesty Appeals Board makes a recommendation to the Provost, who renders the final decision on the appeal.

Other Grounds for Dismissal

In addition to the minimum 2.50 GPA in Social Work Program courses that is required for students to remain enrolled in the program, the Undergraduate Program has additional Professional Program Standards.

Professional Program Standards

In general, students who meet academic standards will have no difficulty meeting professional standards. However, on occasion a student may possess all the requisite academic skills and yet may not be ready to meet the emotional challenges of undergraduate studies. This lack of readiness would be evidenced by behaviors that emerge in the classroom, in relations with professors or other students, or in fieldwork. Since it is possible for a student to have difficulty relating with one particular professor or field instructor, the decision to terminate or take other disciplinary action against an undergraduate student (i.e., place on probation, suspension) will not be made by only one person but will be the decision of the Academic and Professional Standing Committee.

Behaviors that may result in a student being considered for professional termination or other disciplinary action (i.e., probation, suspension) include the following:

- Behaviors in violation of the Campus Conduct Code (as found in the Stockton University Bulletin)
- Consistent failure to meet generally accepted standards of professional conduct and personal integrity, as described in the NASW Code of Ethics
- Disruptive behavior towards other students, faculty, University staff, agency staff, field instructors, or agency clients
• Consistent inability to form effective helping relationships (e.g., lack of respect for client self-determination, inability to be non-judgmental, discriminatory behavior, lack of cultural competence and appreciation for social diversity with respect to race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, socioeconomic class, age, disability, and religion).
• Lack of minimal self-awareness that consistently interferes with ability to relate to others (e.g., uses self-disclosure inappropriately in the classroom, field placement, or the profession; is unable to work toward resolving one’s personal issues that may impair academic and/or professional performance)
• A pattern of irresponsible behavior, such as excessive tardiness and/or absenteeism in class or in field
• Present or history of past felony convictions that would seriously compromise the ability to work as a social worker (e.g., conviction for sexual abuse of children).
• Substance Abuse
• Behaviors that indicate lack of professional integrity or emotional stability (e.g., lying, cheating, or plagiarizing in program applications or field work)

Procedures for Professional Termination or Other Disciplinary Action (i.e., Probation, Suspension) and Due Process Guarantees

• No student will be considered for professional termination on the basis of race, ethnic origin, gender, sexual orientation, age, or disability status
• All decisions to terminate or take other disciplinary action against an undergraduate student (i.e., place on probation, suspension) for professional performance will be made by the Academic and Professional Standing Committee.

Professional Performance Review

Students are expected to maintain the standards set forth in the Stockton University Undergraduate Bulletin, the Social Work Program Student Handbook, the National Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics, and course syllabi. If a student fails to meet required professional program standards, he/she may be subject to a performance review.

A performance review is intended to provide students and faculty the opportunity to openly identify and discuss performance problems. The request for a performance review may be made to the attention of the Academic and Professional Standing Committee by any member of the Social Work program, by a field instructor, instructor, or a group of instructors in a course or courses in which the student is enrolled. (For procedural details see Procedure for Requesting and Conducting a Professional Performance Review below.) A student who engages in any behavior identified as “behavior that may result in a student being considered for professional termination or other disciplinary action (i.e., probation, suspension)” may be subject to a Professional Performance Review.

Academic and Professional Standing Committee Composition and Operation

“Every two years, at the first Social Work program Faculty Meeting, the full program will select an Academic and Professional Standing Committee for the term of two years. The members of the Committee will select the Committee Chair. The Program Coordinator may not be a member or chair of the Committee. The Committee shall be composed of three faculty members and two alternates.
No Committee member may consider a case in which he/she is considered to have a conflict of interest, as determined by the Program Coordinator. The Chair will designate an alternate member(s) to consider a case in place of a regular Committee member deemed to have a conflict of interest or to fill the absence of a regular Committee member. If additional alternates are necessary, the Committee Chair shall advise the Program Coordinator who shall bring the issue to the full Program.

The Academic and Professional Standing Committee is a Program level system for early detection of problems in academic or professional performance. The Academic and Professional Standing Committee will: 1) review criteria for performance review, 2) make recommendations to the Program for updates or changes to the review process, 3) receive requests for review of student performance, 4) review requests for review of student performance, and 5) make decisions on all reviewed requests. The Committee may decide that there is no basis for further action or that a specific student contract must be established for a probationary period before determining the need for further action. The contract will include problems to be solved, actions to be taken to solve the problems, a time period to carry out identified actions and re-evaluation of student performance, and consequences for noncompliance. The Committee will work with the student, his/her preceptor, and other relevant persons. In addition, the Committee reserves the power to terminate the student from the program under any of the following circumstances: if the student refuses to develop a contract, fails to fulfill the contract, or if during the process of completing the contract some serious negative behavior or failing academic performance occurs. Termination can occur any semester, including the last semester of enrollment in the Program.

Possible Outcomes from Academic and Professional Standing Committee Review

Probation: The student is placed on probation and is allowed to continue in the program for a time-limited period to allow for completion of the contract.

Suspension: The student is temporarily removed from the program and required to complete a contract as developed with the Academic and Professional Standing Committee.

Termination: The student is dismissed from the program.

Detailed Procedure for Requesting and Conducting Professional Performance Review

1. Before filing a request with the Committee, the potential Requester must make all reasonable efforts to resolve the matter with the student(s), including, but not limited to meeting with the student, reviewing the issue(s) with the Program Coordinator, and, if recommended by the Program Coordinator, meeting with a representative from the Office of Students Rights and Responsibilities. All such efforts to resolve must be documented in writing by the potential Requester, regardless of whether a request is dealt with the Committee.

2. If an eligible person files a request with the Committee, it must be filed with the Committee Chair in writing, dated, and signed by the Requester and must include written documentation of: (1) the specifics of each actual performance incident on which the request is based, including student name(s), date, location, approximate time, and names of persons present; (2) all efforts to resolve prior to filing with the Committee, as required by point 1 above, with written documentation of same; and (3) the Requester’s recommended action.

3. Barring extenuating circumstances, the Committee shall notify the Requester in writing within two weeks of its decision on whether their request meets Committee requirements for review. A Committee decision requires a majority vote.

4. If a review is granted, the Committee will send written notification to the student(s) and Requester of the decision, including a copy of the Requester’s request; a copy of the Policy and Procedure Regarding Academic and Professional Performance; notice to the student that they must submit a written reply to the Requester’s filing to the Committee within one week of receipt of the notice; and a statement a Committee representative will contact both parties within two weeks to schedule a review. Barring extenuating circumstances, the Committee shall make a reasonable effort to schedule a review within two weeks of mailing the notice.

5. Students responding to a Requester filing may have a representative assist them with the process, including being on-site at the Committee and will be notified of such in the initial written communication with the student. However, in all cases, the students must speak for themselves and the representative shall have no right to speak to the Committee, other than introducing themselves to the Committee. For purposes of this section a representative may include only one person who may only be a person from the Stockton community (student, faculty, or staff).

6. Committee reviews are opportunities for both the Requester(s) and student(s) to submit their positions orally and in writing for Committee review. The Requester(s) and student(s) each will have a maximum of 15 minutes for their oral presentation. The oral presentations for both the Requestor and the Student will take place separately. The Committee review does not include cross-examination between the parties; only questions by the Committee members. A Requester(s) or student(s) may ask the Committee chair to consider asking a question to the student(s) or Requester(s), respectively. The Committee chair has full discretion in deciding whether or not to honor the request.

7. All evidence presented by the Requester(s) and student(s) must be presented in writing to the Committee Chair within 7 days prior to the review. No additional evidence will be permitted during the scheduled review.

8. Barring extenuating circumstances, the Committee shall issue a written decision to the Requester(s) and student(s) within two weeks of the review meeting. A committee decision requires a majority vote. The decision must be sent by email, return receipt requested, and include: the decision (i.e., probation subject to contract development and compliance, suspension, or termination), its effective date; and the appeal rights, as stated in this policy and procedure. Effective dates shall be established, subject to appeal rights. All committee decisions shall be considered final and consented to by the student unless the student exercises his/her appeals rights.
Procedure for Appeal of Academic and Professional Standing Committee Review Decision

The student may appeal the decision of the Academic and Professional Standing Committee in the following order:

1. Undergraduate Social Work Program Appeals Committee
2. Dean of School of Social and Behavioral Sciences
3. Provost

First Level of Appeal

If the student disagrees with the decision of the Academic and Professional Standing Committee, the student may request an appeal. The student must submit a substantive written statement for requesting an appeal by the Undergraduate Program Appeals Committee to the Academic and Professional Standing Committee Chair and the Program Coordinator. The written request must be submitted within two weeks of the receipt date of the Committee’s review decision notice. If this deadline is not met, the student is ineligible to appeal.

The first level of appeal is to appeal the Committee’s decision to the Undergraduate Program Appeals Committee. Upon receipt of the appeal notice from the student, the Program Coordinator will appoint an appeal committee from all eligible program members and a chair, but in no case may the review panel be less than two members. Eligible persons are full-time faculty and field coordinators. The following persons are ineligible: the Program Coordinator, Academic and Professional Standing Committee members, and any other program members the Program Coordinator deems to have a conflict of interest.

Appeal Process

Barring extenuating circumstances, the chair of the appeal committee shall set a date for the hearing within two weeks. After a hearing date has been set, the Committee Chair shall give at least one week notice to Committee members, the requester(s), student(s), and preceptor about date, time, and place for the hearing as well as the issues which will be considered by the Committee. The hearing notification will be sent via certified mail. All Committee members, the student(s), and requester(s) must be present at this appeal hearing. The preceptor may attend the appeal hearing. The student may be accompanied by a person from the Stockton community (student, faculty, or staff).

The appeal committee review is an opportunity for both the Requester(s) and student(s) to submit their positions in orally and in writing for Committee review. Its purpose is to review whether the Academic and Professional Standing Committee procedure followed the requirements of the policy and procedure and to review the substantive decision. The Requester(s) and student(s) each will have a maximum of 5 minutes for their oral presentation. The Requester(s) and student(s) written presentations from the Committee review will be the basis of their written presentation to the appeal committee. Requester(s) and student(s) may submit any new written documentation to the appeal committee within 3 days of the appeal committee meeting. The appeal committee review does not include cross-examination between the parties; only questions by the Committee members. A Requester(s) or student(s) may ask the appeal committee chair to consider asking a question to the student(s) or Requester(s), respectively. The committee chair has full discretion in deciding whether or not to honor the request. The student must leave the room at the time of deliberations.
Deliberations

Only the Committee members and the student’s preceptor (if in attendance) will be present in the room for the vote. The preceptor will not vote. The Appeals Committee recommendation to the Program Coordinator will be by majority vote. The Committee’s responsibilities are to

1. Consider all factors in the present and past performance of the student
2. Decide to support the decision of the Academic and Professional Standing Committee
3. Decide to overturn the decision of the Academic and Professional Standing Committee with an alternative plan to resolve the performance problems.

The Appeals Committee shall prepare a written recommendation to submit to the Program Coordinator, which will describe the nature of the performance problem, a summary of the facts as presented to the Appeals Committee, Committee’s actions and reasons for the actions.

Notification

Barring extenuating circumstances, the Appeals Committee shall issue a written decision to the Requester(s), student(s), Academic and Professional Standing Committee chair, and Program Coordinator within one week of the review meeting. The decision must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, and include: the decision; its effective date; and the appeal rights, as stated in this policy and procedure. Effective dates shall be established subject to appeal rights.

Second Level of Appeal

If the student disagrees with the decision of the Appeals Committee, the student may request an appeal to the Dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences. The student must submit a substantive written statement stating the specific grounds for his/her appeal to Dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, and the Program Coordinator. The written request should be submitted within two weeks of the receipt date of the Committee’s review decision notice. If this deadline is not met, the student is ineligible to appeal. The Dean’s review shall be based on documentation from the Academic and Professional Standing Committee and appeal decisions. There will be no in-person appearances by the student(s) or Requester(s), unless the Dean decides otherwise. The Dean shall consult with the Program Coordinator, Academic and Professional Standing Committee Chair, and Appeals Committee Chair and make the final decision.

Barring extenuating circumstances, the Dean shall issue a written decision to the student, Academic and Professional Standing Committee Chair, Program Coordinator, and the student’s file/record within reasonable time. The decision must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, and include: the decision; its effective date; and the appeal rights, as stated in this policy and procedure. Effective dates shall be established subject to appeal rights.

Third Level of Appeal

Should the student not be satisfied with the results of the second appeal level, the student may request a review by the Provost. The student must submit a substantive written statement stating the specific grounds for his/her appeal to the Provost, the Dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, and the Program Coordinator. The written request should be submitted within two weeks from the receipt date of the Dean’s decision notice. If this deadline is not met, the student is ineligible to appeal. The Provost's review shall be based on documentation from the Academic and Professional Standing Committee and appeal decisions. There will be no in-person appearances by the student(s) or Requester(s), unless the Provost decides otherwise. The Provost shall consult with the Dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, and the Program Coordinator and make the final decision.

Barring extenuating circumstances, the Provost shall issue a written decision to the student, Dean of the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences, the Program Coordinator, and the student’s file/record within reasonable time. The decision must be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, and include: the decision and its effective date.

Confidentiality

All procedures must be confidential to protect student’s rights to privacy. All parties involved are expected to comply with this requirement.

Procedures for Readmission to the Social Work Program

Students who have be terminated for reasons of academic and/or professional performance from the Social Work Program may, at a later date, seek to be readmitted. A terminated student who displays renewed determination to complete the program satisfactorily may reapply for acceptance after a wait of at least one year. The procedure for reacceptance is to write to the Social Work Program Coordinator to request a personal appearance before the Social Work Program. At this time, the student should give clear evidence of academic and/or professional growth during the period that he or she was out of the Program.

A Final Word

We hope that this handbook answers many of your questions about Stockton’s Social Work Program. If you have additional questions or concerns, please feel free to contact the Social Work Program Coordinator or your preceptor, or visit www.stockton.edu/bsw.
