Galloway, NJ - Brian Kowalski of Moorestown, NJ, has been named interim associate general counsel at Stockton University.

Kowalski, a former partner in Saul Ewing, LLP in Princeton, NJ, has extensive experience in business law, finance, education, government relations, regulatory compliance, public private partnerships, corporate governance and regulatory matters.

He has advised clients in higher education on various transactions, including Kean University, Rider University, Villanova University, St. Joseph's University, Gettysburg College, Swarthmore College, Haverford College and Bryn Mawr College.

Kowalski is a graduate of The London School of Economics and Political Science, where he earned a master's degree in International Business Law; the University of New Hampshire's School of Law, and the University of Delaware, where he received a degree in Civil Engineering.

He previously was a partner in the business department of Capehart & Scatchard in Mount Laurel, NJ.

He serves on the board of trustees of the Doane Academy in Burlington, NJ and the Katz Dalsey Academy Charter School in Camden, NJ.
