Galloway Township, NJ- Mozart's Coronation Mass and Other Selected Works will be presented Sunday, April 25, 2010 at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.

Conducted by Stockton Professor of Music Dr. Beverly J. Vaughn, the event will take place at 7:30 p.m. in the Elizabeth Alton Auditorium (A-Wing of the Galloway Twp. campus). Tickets, priced at $6 for students and senior citizens with identification and $8 for the general public, are available through the Stockton College Performing Arts Center box office.

Mozart's classic compositions will be sung by the Stockton Oratorio Society and Chorale and accompanied by Mrs. Rosemarie Barbera. Several guest soloists will be announced the night of the performance.

"The Spring Concert is one of our most eagerly anticipated musical events at the College and this year won't be an exception," said Vaughn. "Mozart's works certainly stand the test of time and our chorale groups plan on doing this music justice," Vaughn promised.

The event is presented by Stockton's School of Arts and Humanities and Performing Arts faculty.
