Galloway Township, NJ- Stockton University offering a screenwriting workshop to be held at the Carnegie Center in Atlantic City, from 7-9 on Wednesday evenings, April 1-June 3.

The screenwriting workshop brings together writers with different levels of experience and yet with one purpose in mind: to help each writer to develop a well-written cinematic story. New script ideas and works-in-progress are both welcome.

Experienced screenwriter Robert Steele, MFA, director of Media Instruction in Stockton's School of General Studies, will teach the fundamentals and craft of screenwriting. In this supportive workshop environment, Steele offers helpful criticism and encouragement for writers working toward completing a final draft.

Writers should be prepared to write and rewrite weekly assignments outside of class, share work in class, and give and receive feedback.

The goal of the screenwriting workshop is to encourage and motivate participants to concentrate on writing an excellent feature-length screenplay. The intensive creative process is an opportunity for writers to set their work in motion. If you are eager to write and complete your script, sign up for more than one session.

Tuition is $150 per session. Enroll early by calling 609-652-9000 or visiting www.stockton.edu/gens. Writers ages 17 years and older are welcome to attend.

Stockton's Carnegie Center is located at 35 S. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd., Atlantic City.
