Galloway Township, NJ -The Philadelphia 76ers will hold training camp at The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey's Sports Center from Sept. 30-Oct. 4.

"Stockton is pleased to host the Sixers at our $17 million Sports Center, an excellent facility which boasts four basketball courts, including two regulation side-by-side full courts," said President Herman Saatkamp. "This is wonderful news for Stockton and an example of our many community partnerships throughout the region and beyond."

Director of Athletics Lonnie Folks said the practices are expected to be closed to the public and media, but that the 76ers may revisit that policy.

He added, "We'll do our part to make the team feel welcome as they practice here before beginning their NBA season."
