Galloway Twp., NJ - The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey and the School of Arts and Humanities' Performing Arts Program presents the annual Holiday Choral Concert, 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, December 9, 2012 in the I-Wing Gymnasium here.

The event features the Stockton Oratorio Society, College Chorale and College Chorus, with guest performers representing numerous area organizations and houses of worship.

"This year's concert promises to be one of our most entertaining ever, with one of our largest and strongest groups of singers," said Dr. Beverly Vaughn, the show's director. "We have assembled a force of students, faculty, staff and community members ready to sing their hearts out."

Dr. Vaughn said the Holiday Choral Concert is a great example of community engagement in the performing arts. "It is truly humbling to see people who would not ordinarily visit our campus participate in this event either as a performer or an audience member. We like to think this is more than a show, it is a community event."

Tickets for the event are $8 for general admission, $6 for students and may be purchased at the Stockton College Performing Arts Center Box Office by calling 609-652-9000 or by visiting www.stockton.edu/pac.
